AgencyWorks Adds Pending Case Status Feed From American National

Salt Lake City, Utah (March 17, 2007) - American National Insurance Company (ANICO) has been added to the list of carriers that provide electronic pending case status data to AgencyWorks' internet-based agency management software.

Now, life insurance and annuity applications entered in Agency Integrator will receive live case status updates automatically and electronically, directly from ANICO. Outstanding underwriting requirements are received and maintained, case status is updated and changed, and case notes made at the carrier level can be added to internal case notes at the agency level.

As with all updates and enhancements to AgencyWorks' suite of products, this new pending case status feed will increase efficiency of case management, open lines of communication between carrier and agency; between agent and agency, and make follow-up on pending cases even easier.

ANICO joins a list of over 50 insurance carriers that provide electronic pending case status updates to AgencyWorks.
